

For Your Information

The government of Ontario is improving the way in which it provides employment programming to the general public. Effective August 1, 2010 there will be 10 agencies located across the city of Ottawa, all of whom have been offering employment services for many years.

Whether you have been downsized from your last position, are looking for that very first employment experience or find yourself in an “under-employment” situation, these organizations are able to assist you.

If you have already been a client of our centre, you will have become accustomed to a very high level of service and professionalism. It is our continued goal to not only offer the same level of service to you but to further improve the range of services and programs available.

We firmly believe that this new way of “doing business” providing you with “one stop” shopping, will greatly enhance your ability to access more government employment initiatives and receive the services you require to attach or re-attach yourself to the Ottawa labour market.

The following Employment Ontario service locations will be available to assist you effective August 1, 2010.
